The House Dress Problem Solved By the Baldwin House Dress.

Every woman is interested in house dresses—those practical, dressy garments so comfortable and so dainty. But we have the exclusive agency of a house dress that in its designing marks a revolution. We refer to the Baldwin House Dress, which slips on and off like a coat; not a button, hook, or eye on it; just two self-clasping catches at the back, which enable women to put it on and take it off with great haste, which is often necessary in the performance of the varied household duties.

All Baldwin House Dresses have reversible fronts, affording double service, both as regards wear and cleanliness. Made of best quality percales and chambrays, by skilled labor, under the inspection of the Consumers' League, having received their indorsement. A variety of styles.

Baldwin House Dresses are most moderate in price. Each $2.00

CHURCH'S AID ASKED IN HEALTH CAMPAIGN

Dr. E. W. Williams Asks Religious Communities to Assist in the Sanitary Campaign.

CO-OPERATION IS SOUGHT

"No social agency is more earnest in its demands upon the church for co-operation than public health, and no agency offers a greater return for such co-operation," says Dr. E. W. Williams, Health Commissioner of Virginia, in a bulletin just issued by the United States Bureau of Education.

"Public health asks the church to join hands with it in giving men better bodies, and it promises that when men's bodies shall be stronger, their spirits will be nobler. Public health asks the church to assist it in making sanitary the community to which the church ministers; and it pledges the experience of the world to show that when this is done, some will benefit more than the church. Other things equal, the healthy man is the moral man, and the sanitary community is the spiritual community."

The first means of co-operation on the part of the church is in preaching the duty of the human person, the sanctity of the individual body. This will enable the church to justify the health officer in his demand for a sanitary community—will, indeed, make that demand irresistibly logical. If the body is sacred, then the body deserves a sanitary surrounding, and depends upon it. The permanence of our fight for better health must rest, in part at least, upon an awakened public conscience which will view disease as second only to sin, cleanliness as next to Godliness.

The church should, in a very practical way, illustrate the necessity of sanitation by being itself a model of sanitation. It should be well ventilated, well kept, supplied with proper outhouses, and with a safe supply of drinking water. Many of our rural churches fall far short of this. Cleaned only when fifth houses unbearable, ventilated by chance or accident, generally without any outhouses and supplying water from a rusty bucket and a dirty tin dipper, the church oftentimes is a focus of infection. If it is to stand as the evangel of good health, it must be sanitary. If it is to preach the gospel of fresh air, it must be well ventilated.

Pointed Favors the Erection of Modern Juvenile Court.

Senator Miles Pointed yesterday declared himself in favor of the movement for the erection of a new Juvenile Court Building, and promised his full support to the project. He said that the long fight for new quarters for the tribunal was an excellent argument in favor of the enactment of the bill now before the Senate District Committee providing for representation of the District by a delegate in Congress.

"I am in favor of a Juvenile Court Building that will be a credit to the city and the nation," he said, "and I can be depended upon to do all in my power to bring this about. Not only shall I talk to my fellow members in Congress about it, but I shall give it my support on the floor of the Senate."

WEDDING ADJOURNS INQUIRY.

House Lobby Investigation Gains Early to Accommodate Groom.

Cupid put a crimp in the House lobby investigation yesterday and brought about a shortening of the afternoon session. E. R. Sartwell, a local newspaper man, was married last night and two of the men "covering" the story for their papers were "billed" as groomsmen.

With tears in their voices and with the moral support of the entire press table, they approached Chairman Garrett before the morning session and begged him to end the afternoon session by 6 o'clock.

Mr. Garrett promised to consult the committee, and before the first witness took the stand he solemnly announced the intention of the committee to adjourn at 6 o'clock and gave, with all the harrowing particulars, the committee's reasons for so doing.

Philipsborn THE OUTER GARMENT SHOP 608 TO 614 ELEVENTH STREET

This is especially true of the staple garments—such as Serge Suits, Serge Dresses, Separate Coats, and Crepe-Chine Dresses.

Of course, many people need summer garments for immediate wear—but the woman who plans ahead can make equally snug savings.
